Reviewer Guidelines

Reviewers should try to fill in all the parts of reviewers report to make a fair judgment regarding the quality of the paper.

- No manuscript should be reviewed which is authored or co-authored by some known person/s, in order to avoid biasness.
- Any reviewer who feels that he is unable to review should inform editor promptly, so that the paper can be forwarded elsewhere.
- The review should be objective one, and personal feelings, judgments or biasness should not affect the review and its outcomes
- A manuscript sent for review is a confidential document, so it should not be disclosed to anyone other person.
- Each point should be commented clearly to make decision process of acceptance/rejection easy.
- The changes/ corrections required made should be clearly stated.
- If reviewer notices any similarity with any other paper published in any other journal, containing same contents etc should inform immediately to the editor

At the time of review the reviewer must focus on Originality, Contribution to field of technical quality of research, clarity of issues presented in the paper and depth of research
